The Russian Organ at Brussels on the Situation in Russia.

BRUNGELS, March 28 .- "Le Nord," the Russian organ here, publishes a significant commentary upon the present state of the Afghan dispute, in the course of wnich it says: "The people of Rus. sia regard the whole quarrel with sang froid, and with no trace of irritation. This is owing to their conviction of the absurdity of the idea of any war between Russia and England | resulting from the Afghan imbroglio, and the impossibility on their part of regarding seriously the war ke demonstrations being made by England in India." The Nord follows up this editorial utterance by printing a letter dated St. Petersburg, March 23, in which the writer, who is referred to as good authority, says: "The present Russian military movement is nothing but precautionary measures dictated by the most elementary principles of National pru-

A General Review of England's Situation. LONDON, March 28.-There is a marked full in the war scare. In fact, among the very soberminded there is no war scare at all. Some of the most fiery jingos even are beginning to ask them. selves what grounds they have had for causing all the alarm of the past week. The first announcement of the Queen's summons calling out the army reserves and militia almost created a panic. It aroused the national pugnacity thoroughly. It made every fighting Englishman ready to fight right away. The pugnacity is still up but there is a growing belief that it is up for nothing. The blood thirst is being slacked with the coldest kind of water. After putting ev-erybody in a fever-heat of excitement by springing without notice a call for the reserves, the ministry are now apparently attempting to minumize oud impart to Her Majesty's message by delaying to state what number of militia and reserves would be accepted and put under arms. Every effort was made to draw the Government out on this point, but so far without success. But the ministry have allowed reports to be circulated effect that no greater number 25,000 men are now wanted. The reports have emanated from such good authority, and have been so persistently circu-sated and are now generally betteved, and so far, to use an American expression, "the thing has petered out." Twenty-five thousand men, just about enough to fill the vacancies in the muster rolls caused by the recent drafts for Egyptain and Mediterranean stations. Some people think there never was any danger of an actual conflict with Russia, and the Government is even trying to obtain glory and credit with the people for having intimidated Russia by act, which was admitted to be enormously magnified in popular conception, but which was really a matter of course, and practically insignificant. Gladstone has replied to the most pressing requests for information as to the true import of the Queen's summons by saying the Gov roment had decided to postpone all statements upon that subject until after Easter. This reply was accompanied by a statement that the Government hoped it would beable during the laterval to reach some arrangements with Russis. Taken either as statesmanship or humbug, the Premier's evasion must be considered a clever piece of work of its kind. Lists of all the men available for service in the army reserves and milita have been called for. Dockyard departments have been officially notified to hold themselves in readiness for the sup ply of extra stores for military and service. The Army and Navy Gazette blames minor news agencies for fomenting war rumors. It charges them with having circulated y. Agents of Irish organizations have approached the Russian Embassy in Paris with offers of assistance in case a war occurs beween Russia and England. These agents propos to foment an uprising in Ireland while England is engaged in Afghanistan, and to fit out privateers in America to prey upon British commerce. All they ask is that Russia shall furnish the Irish allies with the means to carry out their part of the bargain, and they offer to work as cheaply as

The overtures to Turkey for an alliance with Russia are still under -con-sideration. Diplomatic advices from Athens Constantinople concur in corroborating the truth of the report that secret negotiations have been for some time in progress with Austria, Greece and Russia for a new territorial arrangement with Turkey. Under this, Russia is to obtain the annexation of East Roumelia to Bulgaria, with an extension of the principality east to Roumelia and the Ægean Sea; Greece to get that part of Macedonia, with the frontier line along the Secos and Haleacton Rivers to the mouth of the latter, in the Guif of Salonica; Austria to optain a new frontier from the Plains of Kossova to the western side of the mouth of Orvellos, along the River Strymon to the Ægean Sea: the center of Austrian territory to be a part of Salonica.

Russia also asks to be accorded the right to occupy ports on the Black Sea at the entrance to

A General Advance of the British Army.

SUARIM, March 28,-General Graham and the whole British army advance arrived to-day at Ceneral McNeil's zereba. This advance includes all the troops except fifty men from each regiment, left behind to garrison Suskim. A violent sand storm delayed the movement considerably. Osman Digma's losses during all the engagements of the past week are estimated at 40,000 men.

A Rumor that Osman Digna Wants to Surrender.

SUAKIM. March 23.-A rumor prevails here this afternoon that Osman Digna desires to surrender, but upon what terms is not stated. A deserter from Osman Dizus's camp states that 20,000 are entrenced at Tamai.

General Graham's Advance on Berber. LONDON March 18. - General Graham telographs from! Suaxim that he expects to be able to have completed to morrow enough water stores to enable his army to advance to Tamai. He says he has ordered all the available men from the war ships anchored in the Red Sea, off Suakim, to garrison duty in the town, so that the whole regular force at Suakum could be used in the advance against Osman Digna.

The censorship over all telegrams sent from Soundim to the press has been made recently much stricter than ever. Cable-grams received from Socz, between which place and Suskim there is good communication, show that General Graham is making very little progress in his exhibition to Berber. After the much-heralded advance, to make which two weeks have been consumed and several hundred lives lost, ber than it is to Snakim. The cump is connected with Sunkim by tramway. Nothing has yet been done in the way of constructing the prejected Berber Railway. The transport service is very defective. For want of a better transport service, the whole army is suffering, men, mules and camels being compelled to carry otherwise unnecessary burdens in the torid heat. Typhoid Sanstrokes Increasing-Railway Building Suspended.

SUARIM, March 28 .- Nearly all the infantry and cavalry engaged in the couvoys have arrived at the zeraba on the Tamai road. The number of sunstrokes among the troops daily increases. The troops are greatly overworked with convoy duty during the day and sentry service at night. The building of the Berber Railway is suspended outside of Suskim, owing to the inability of the army to afford protection slong the line beyond the camp. It is decided that the forces necessary for such protection can not be spared—at least until after the impending battle at Tamai, which is expected to be decisive, shall have been fought. The laborers engaged for the railroad construction will be employed in the meantime in the much-needed work of improving the harbor ac

Graham Criticised-The Arabs Growing

More Hostile. LONDON, March 28 .- Military papers severely criticise General Graham's conduct in the Suskim-Berber campaign. The Army and Navy Gazette says at the rate at which General Graham is making progress it is safe to calculate that Christmas, 1885, will see him half way to Berber. From Dougola comes intelligence that the dreaded rhamens wind began to blow on Wednesday last. The heat is excessive, but it is said the health of the men with General Wolseley remains good.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

The University Race Between Cambridge and Oxford Won by the Latter.

PUTNEY, March 28,-The University boat race, between Cambridge and Oxford, came off this morning. The river banks were lined with spectators, the water was smooth and the conditions favored the Oxferd crew. Both got off well to-zether. Oxford soon took the lead and main-tained it to the end, winning by two lengths. Later.-According to the latest information the victory for Oxford was more decisive than first reported. They won the race by three lengths, instead of two. The time of the face was twentyone minutes and thirty-six seconds, a trifling im provement over the time of a year ago, when the record was twenty-one minutes and thirty-nine smoother water.

Synney, March 28 -The race between Hanlon and Beach was rowed over the Champion Course on the Parramatta River. The attendance was enormous, the weather favorable and water smooth. Both oarsmen were in excellent condition. Hanlon and Beach, after the start, kept well tegether for some distance, and the race was close and exciting. As the scullers approached the winning post they were almost bow and bow, and the excitement among the spectators was great. When pulling with all their strength for the winning post, Beach overbauled Hanlon and increased his advantage until the very fluish, amid the wildest excitement. Beach won by aix leng tha.

A Resolution to Suppress Brandy Drinking. BURNE, March 23 .- The Swiss Parliament, as a measure toward suppressing the curse of brandy drinking, which has grown to fearful proportions in the Republic since the wholesale introduction of cheap French brandles, has passed a resolu tion restoring to the Cautons the right of local option in regard to the sale of intoxicating liquors, and giving the Cantons the privilege of imposing texes upon the domestic manufacture of spirits. The resolution was passed as the result of the profound agitation, and to a belief it was the best remedy for drunkenness.

News From Lang-Son, Paris, March 23.-General Negrier telegraphs from Lang-Son, under the date of the 27th inst.,

"The greater part of the brigade is now concentrated here. The advanced guard remained yesterday before the gate of China. The enemy failed to sppear. The enemy lost heavily on Tuesday. Our losses, during the two days' fighting, were six officers and seventy-two men killed. and 190 men wounded. All of our wounded have been brought here. We do not require further reinforcements. Capture of the Wild Man of the Preakness Mountains.

TRENTON, N. J., March 28 .- The people of Paterson were astonished when those who were near the jail saw Constable Post leading through the streets a wild-eyed and long-haired man, clad in a blanket composed of muskrat and squirrel skins. His hands were manacled, but he grasped to his breast an old-fashioned. long-barreled gun, which he guarded with zealous care. He was Andrew Riker, for whom the police have been searching for nearly two years. Prior to the time Riker was known as an outlaw and the robbery of several rural postoffices and other offenses were laid at his door. In April, 1883, the Grand Jury indicted him for an assault upon his niece, Jennie Riker, a simple-minded girl of fifteen or thereabouts. Riker heard of the action of the Grand Jury and disappeared from his accustomed haunts. All efforts to locate him proved futile. A week ago the search was taken up by Constable Post, who, at Sheriff McKee's suggestion, made frequent visits to the Preakness Mountains, a blesk range of hills, thickly wooded in parts. There are many places where the foot of man has never trodden. Yesterday while Constable Post was searching through this wild region, hunting here and there among the natural caves and clefts in the rocks, he tripped and fell. Upon investigating he ascertained that he had stumbled over a section of stove-pipe which protruced, apparently, tbrough the solid earth. After further investiga tion he discovered a comfortable cave dug out by hand and overtopped by turf. Within were all kinds of skins and furs, a stove, cooking utensits, and a rudely-made couch. The cave was tenantiess, but upon exploring the neighborhood. borhood. Post suddenly came upon Riker, who was standing near a small lake tak-ing a muskrat from a trap. Upon being accosted Riker, who was armed with a gun, attempted to shoot Post, but he was soon disarmed and manacled. The weapon was discharged, and was then returned to Riker, who begged pitteously for it. Riker is undoubtedly insane, and the two years' subsistence on the mountain have left him a veritable wild man. He was a soldier in the late war, and has received a pension at intervals by disguising himself and apply-ing for it in person, the attorney from whom he drew it never suspecting that he was the same man who was wanted by the authorities. Crowds visited the jall to-day to gaze upon the wild man of Preakness Mountains,"

General Anson Stager's Funeral.

CHICAGO, March 28 .- The funeral of the late General Anson Stager occurred this afternoon, and was attended by a large number of friends of the deceased from all portions of the country. The remains were taken to Cieveland for interment. Mayor Harrison ordered all the fire alarms to be tolled during the passage of the funeral cortege from the house to the railway depot, as a mark of respect to the dead.

ELOPED WITH A NEGRO.

A Young White Girl and a Colored Boy Bun Away and Are Married.

ATCHISON, Kan., March 28 .- William Forber arrived in Atchison Thursday night on the Rock Island train from Wallace, Mo., and reported to the police station that Richard Concel, aged eighteen, a very light mulatto farm band on the Forber place, in Platte County, had abducted Belie Bledsaw, aged fifteen, an adopted daughter of the family, last Monday even-ing, and, it was thought, brought her to Atchison. He had traced the pair to Wallace Station, and thence to Atchison by train. Officer Hiller was detailed to work on the case and, after visiting a number of houses of 111-fame, in company with Mr. Forber, they sought the home of Peter Coneel, a brother of Richard, who is em-ployed at the Missouri Pacific Round-house, and lives at 1,515 Utah avenue. The searchers reached the house about 11 o'clock, and, after some delay and many threats, were admitted, and, sure enough, the runaways were there. The house is a tumble-down shanty, containing only one room, and in this room the entire family and the young man and girl were sleeping. The pair occupied a bed on the floor. They were commanded to get up and dress, which they did promptly, and were at once conducted to the station, where Concel was lodged in a cell. The girl was taken by Mr. Forber to the St. James, where she was sent to bed. When the pair were separated at the station she begged to be permitted to stay with him. They seemed to be desperately infatuated with each other, and declare they will yet live together. Coneel has the faintest trace of negro blood in him, and it is only by the closest inspection that African features can be detected. He appeared to be a very intelligent and gentlemanly colored boy, and is a very handsome and attractive fellow. The girl is a pretty little thing, as white as a lily, and a pure Caucasian. She looks to be scarcely filteen. An investigation to-day proves that they were regularly married, as they stated. but, as neither party is of age, of course the mar-riage is null and void. Mr. Forber took his pris-oners back to Platte County this evening, where Coneel will be prosecuted for abducting a female under the age of eighteen and sent to the penitentiary. The girl will be received back at her bome. The family are strongly attached to the girl, and her freak overwhelms them with shame and grief. Much indignation is expressed in the neignborhood toward Coneel, where race prejudica exists to a strong degree, which is intensified by the tender years and popularity of the girl and the high standing of the family with which she is cornected. She shrank from returning to her home to-day, but begged to stay with her lover's

A PRODIGAL TWICE OVER.

A Son Disappears and Turns Up Once Eight and Again Twenty-three Years Later.

Baiston, Conn., March 28 .- Thirty-one years ago Edward Deegan, son of Patrick Deegan, of this place, disappeared while in Boston and all seconds. The improvement is not as great as an inquiries brought no tidings. Eight years later, tiefpated, in view of the liner weather and while Mr. Deeger was hoeing back of the Rolling mill, a young may came into the field and the old man asked where he came from. The sup-posed stranger said: "Father, don't you know me?" The lad had been in the regular army and saved from his earnings $500, which he wished his father to accept, but the latter declined. The son again disappeared twenty-three years ago, and from that time no traces were obtained until last week, and the father, now seventy-four years old, had considered him dead.

A letter, dated Philadelphia, March 10, was re-ceived by a priest to-day. It read: "I wish to inquire if Patrick Deegan, his wife and son, are buried in Bristol. I am their son, and if they are dead-as I have long supposed them-and there are no gravestones, I would like to place one over each grave, such as my means will permit." letter was at once sent to the son in Palladelphia. informing bim that his father and brothe still survive, anxiously waiting to welcome him home.

Indigestion's Martyrs.

Half the diseases of the human family spring from a disordered stomach, and may be prevented by invigorating and toning that abused and neglected organ with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Let It be borne in mind that the liver, the kidneys, the intestines, the muscles, the ligaments, the bones, the nerves, the integuments, are all renewed and nourished by the blood, and that the digestive organs are the grand alembic in which the materials of the vital fluid are prepared. When the stomach fails to provide healthful nourishment for its dependencies they necessarily suffer, and the ultimate result, if the evil is not arrested will be chronic and probably fatal disease some-where. It may be developed in the kidneys in the form of diabetis, in the liver as congestion, in the muscles as rheumatism, in the nerves as paralysis, in the integuments as acrofula. Remember, how ever, that each and all of these consequences of indigestion may be prevented by the timely and regular use of that soverign antidote to dyspensia, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

The New American Minister to France. Paris, March 28.—The Gaulouis, referring to the appointment of Governor McLane as American Minister to France, says it is the best possible selection that could have been made. He has made many visits to Paris, and has in many ways shown his liking for France, to which country he is linked by marriage, being the brother-in-law of Baron de Bargin, formerly a member of the Chamber of Deputies from Savoy.

This statement of S. B Arban, a dry goods dealer, of Washington Borough, Pa., is orief, but entirely to the point. "I do hereby certify that I have been sillicted with dys pepsia for several years, and two bottles of Mishler's Herb Bitters cured me," If we undertook to make a collection of certificates of this sort we could fill a very large volume.
